

HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY

“The health and safety of all Employees is of the utmost importance to Rojac Urethane Ltd. By continually promoting a shared responsibility to look after one another in the working environment we are able to minimise any potential dangers”

It is the policy of the Company to ensure that every reasonable step is taken to prevent injury to personnel, damage to property and to protect individuals from any possible health hazards at work. This intention by Rojac is extended to all visitors and contractors whilst on our premises.

Achieving Health and Safety Policy

- Regularly reviewing changes and acting promptly to meet legal duties in relation to providing safe and healthy working conditions.
- Monitoring and improving the performance of the business by encouraging innovation and developing a framework for setting, implementing and reviewing objectives and targets.
- Ensuring that a constant awareness with regard to health and safety at work is maintained in respect of all employees.
- Communicating this policy to all employees, including providing any necessary training or support to enable them to meet their legal duties and contribute to the overall policies and objectives of the company.
- All employees have a responsibility to take reasonable care to safeguard their health and safety at work.
